The Irish Engineering sector is a strong vibrant sector within the Irish manufacturing industry. A very broad range of engineering companies exist in Ireland in terms of size, scale and product, and the sector is a strong contributor to Irish exports. The sector includes companies primarily concerned with metal and plastic processing and machine manufacture.

DOMINANT SUB-SECTORS

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY
Agricultural machinery has evolved into a very strong sub-sector within Irish Engineering. The sub-sector generates exports of over €100 million. Irish agricultural machinery tends to be more rugged and built to a higher specification than machinery from some other countries due to the poor quality of Irish land; as a result the products tend to be superior on high quality land in other countries.

MATERIALS HANDLING
The sub-sector is dominated by a small number of highly capable companies producing world-leading products and represents exports of over €150 million. These companies service a wide range of sectors including manufacturing, transportation, retail, construction and quarries.

PRECISION ENGINEERING
The sub-sector is largely made up of companies manufacturing a very broad range of precision sub-components for large multinational manufacturers. A number of niche product manufacturers have been highly successful; there is a strong innovative mindset in this sub-sector with a significant number of the companies in precision engineering also developing their own products and product ranges.

PROCESS ENGINEERING
The sub-sector is made up of companies who manufacture process equipment including high value-added modular skid units used by many of the world’s leading pharma, chemical and bio-pharma companies, and large bulk storage tanks for a broad range of applications including mining, food, pharmaceutical.

PLASTICS AND TOOLMAKING
Ireland still has a strong plastics and tooling industry centred around medical devices and healthcare products, and high-value niche product manufacture.

AUTOMOTIVE AND AEROSPACE
The sub-sector has a small number of successful niche sub-component manufacturers supplying both the automotive and aviation industries. Companies in precision engineering, toolmaking, plastics and metal fabrication are active in these sectors.

METAL FABRICATION/PROCESSING
There are a large number of companies fabricating a very broad range of metal products for the construction, agriculture, industrial, marine and transit industries. This sub-sector is also a source of highly innovative client-developed products.

KEY CHARACTERISTICS
- Over 600 companies employing more than 16,000 people
- Sales of €2.7 billion and exports of €802 million
- Highly diverse but dominated by a specific group of sub-sectors
- Divided between own-product manufacturers and Tier I/Tier II sub-component/assembly suppliers
- Strong product development/R&D ethos which is gaining traction
- Serves worldwide markets but predominantly EU-oriented

GROWTH AREAS
Enterprise Ireland has identified the following areas as having significant growth potential in the coming years:
- Agricultural Machinery
- Materials Handling
- Niche precision engineering

IRELAND
Ireland enters the second decade of the 21st century as a country transformed into a dynamic, innovative and open economy where exports account for more than 80% of GNP. Therefore, Ireland’s business people are experienced and skilled at meeting and exceeding the needs of their international customers.

While retaining strengths in traditional industries like agri-business and sub-supply, Irish companies are now successfully exporting products and services in sectors such as cleantech and green technology, life sciences, software and telecoms, and financial and education services.

Ireland has an excellent skills base, a first-class education system, a thriving R&D sector, and a track record of bringing innovative products and services to market quickly. As a result, Irish companies are smart, flexible and have the capability to compete internationally.

Ireland is one of the most favoured European destinations for foreign direct investment and, at 12.5%, has the lowest corporate tax rate in the EU. Ireland also provides a tax credit of 25% of capital and revenue spend on qualifying R&D.

ENTERPRISE IRELAND
Enterprise Ireland is the government organisation responsible for the development of Irish enterprise and has a strong track record in assisting Irish businesses to start, grow, innovate and internationalise.

With a network of offices covering more than 60 markets across the globe, we have developed a vibrant network of contacts, detailed knowledge and a keen understanding of local markets and cultures. We can help you connect with and maintain profitable partnerships with businesses in Ireland.
